ANOTHER LONG TRIAL COMING

What was to be a brief arraignment on contempt proceedings in the Circuit Court with the leaders of the Japanese enjoined by the court order from picketing, etc., as defendants, will now turn out to be a weary, long-drawn-out trial. Instead of turning in a written return, Lightfoot arranged it so that the defendants might enter sworn testimony on the stand as its equivalent. The trial started yesterday when Negoro was put on the stand, and his examination occupied the entire afternoon. Making will go on this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The feature of yesterday's trial was a fight between the counsel on the prosecution's right to cross-examine. Lightfoot won his point and there will be no cross-examination.

While attempting to cross the Waipo river last Tuesday, Thomas F. Kelley lost his life. He was returning home from Kukihale, where he had been for supplies, he being an employee of the Hawaiian Irrigation Co. He was riding at the time, and his horse was drowned with him. The horse was found the same evening, but it was not until two days later that the body of Kelley was found.

The deceased was born in Rutland, Vt., May 4, 1876. He enlisted in the army at the beginning of the Spanish-American war and spent several years in the Philippines. He was a member of Theodore Roosevelt Camp No. 1, U. S. W. V.

KAHUKU LINE NOW COMPLETED

The present system of sending messages to Barber's Point and relaying them to Kahuku will from now on be discontinued as the stretching of a new line direct was finished yesterday. The route which the new line follows commences at the office of the wireless company on Fort street and follows the telephone line to Waipahu, through the big gulch where the railroad is, across the Wahiawa plain and thence to Kahuku wireless station. The line meantime will be for the sole use of the company, but later it may be attached to the telephone system so that the public may use it for sending private messages.
